

DESERET Morning News

People on the move

Published: September 2, 2007

•Dr. Brenden R. White has been named president of the Utah Optometric Association, and five other optometrists were elected as officers and trustees for the association. White previously served on the UOA board of directors. He has practiced in Sandy since 1996 and in 2001 established In Vision Eye Health, where he practices today. His education background includes an undergraduate degree from the University of Utah. The other new officers are Dr. Lincoln Dygert, president-elect; Dr. Michael M. Judkins, as executive vice president; and trustees are Drs. Lynn Stromness, Lori Hooley and Mark Taylor. Dygert joined Ogden Vision Center in 1998. Judkins has practiced optometry in Ogden for eight years and established Promontory Family Vision in 2006. His education background includes attending Weber State University. Stromness has been in private practice since 1990 with offices in West Jordan and Sandy. Hooley, whose background includes a degree from the University of Utah, provides vision care for children in her American Fork office. Taylor is in private practice in Kaysville and Syracuse.

•Kelly Phillipps has joined Park City-based Backcountry.com as its chief information officer. Phillipps is an enterprise IT expert with more than 25 years of technology and business experience. Most recently, he spent three years as the operations chief and enterprise architect at a Salt Lake-based company.

•Adam Hilton has been promoted to account manager at Salt Lake-based Richter7. Hilton joined the company in August 2006 and worked most recently as assistant account manager.

•Mick Huerta has joined the the mortgage team at Mountain America Credit Union as a mortgage loan officer, and Breck Schueller has been promoted to branch manager of the credit union's Saratoga Springs branch. Huerta has five years of mortgage experience. Prior to working in the mortgage industry in the Salt Lake area, he spent eight years in South America working with various charitable organizations. Schueller has been with Mountain America Credit Union for six years, most recently as the assistant branch manager of the Orem branch.

•Stephen R. Morgan has become vice president of institutional advancement and Curtis Ryan has become vice president of finance and administration at Westminster College. Morgan will lead the development team in their efforts to raise funds to support the college's educational goals. He will also direct the Office of Alumni and Parent Relations. He has been with the college for 26 years, including 20 as executive vice president of finance and administration. Ryan has been with the college for 15 years and most recently held the position of associate vice president for finance and administration. He will assume Morgan's responsibilities, which include finance, human resources, facilities and risk management.

•Richard E. Mrazik, Nicole Pyne, Jacob C. Schipaanboord and Elizabeth Schulte have joined the Salt Lake City office of law firm Parsons Behle & Latimer as associates. Mrazik is a member of the litigation department and concentrates his practice on civil litigation, including products liability, construction disputes and real property issues. His education includes a degree from the University of Utah. Pyne is a member of the litigation department and concentrates her practice on general commercial litigation. She has degrees from Brigham Young University and Utah State University. Schipaanboord is a member of the litigation and environmental, energy and natural resources departments and concentrates his practice on intellectual property litigation and environmental law. She has degrees from the University of Utah. Schulte is a member of the environmental, energy and natural resources department and concentrates her practice on water law and environmental and natural resources litigation. She has degrees from the University of Utah and Utah State University.

•Bruce L. Hunt has returned to Brighton Bank to serve as executive vice president. Hunt began working for Brighton Bank in 1985 and served as a mission president for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints from 2004 until 2007. His education background includes a degree from Brigham Young University.

•Sandy Sandberg has been named executive vice president of Granite Mill, a company specializing in designing, building and restoring custom woodwork and furniture. Sandberg's promotion was part of the company's recent acquisition of BDL Mill. He will oversee Granite Mill's operation, from business development and defining standard operating procedures to financial performance and human resources. Prior to joining BDL Mill, Sandberg worked at a construction company. He has a degree from Brigham Young University. His great-grandfather, Fredrick, founded Granite Mill in 1907, grandfather Wayne was president for 35 years and father Gary has been president since 1977.

•Drs. Warren L. Butterfield and Richard Hendershot have joined Intermountain Medical Group. Butterfield, an orthopedist, specializes in fractures and reconstructive services. He will be a part of the trauma team at the new Intermountain Medical Center. He has degrees from Snow College and the University of Utah. Hendershot specializes in allergy and immunology at the Intermountain Salt Lake Clinic. His education background includes a degree from Brigham Young University.

•Rick Anderson has been appointed associate director for scholarly resources and collections at the J. Willard Marriott Library at the University of Utah. Anderson has a background in collection development and management of acquisition processes in all formats.

•Laura Hatch has become vice president and branch manager at Barnes Banking Co.'s Bountiful location. Hatch formerly was South Ogden branch manager. She has been with Barnes Bank since 1996 in several positions. Prior to joining Barnes, she worked elsewhere in the banking industry in Davis County.

•Nathan A. Scharton has become a shareholder in the law firm of Callister Nebeker & McCullough. Scharton joined the firm as an associate in May 2005. His practice focuses on general corporate matters and commercial real estate.

•Doug Woodruff has been hired as a landscape architect at Design Workshop's Salt Lake City office. He previously was a summer intern at the firm's Tahoe office.

•Kevin B. Gardner has been hired as program manager at Lindon-based Power Innovations, and Dan Paget has been promoted to production manager and Robbi Mount has been promoted to manufacturing engineer. Gardner has more than 29 years' experience in the fleet and commercial sales industry. He will focus on the promotion and sales of a pair of company products. Paget will oversee the production team, shift leaders and technicians as well as conduct the return material authorization. Mount's responsibilities in the operations department include customer service, on- and off-site customer training and document control, information technology support in desktop setup and troubleshooting, the engineering interface in manufacturing support and installation, and training the production team.

© 2007 Deseret News Publishing Company | All rights reserved